

Tips for Healthy Student Travel

1 Encourage good health practices

- Avoid touching face, eyes, nose mouth.
- Wash hands for at least 20 seconds with soap and warm water.
- Use alcohol-based hand sanitizers in the event hand-washing station unavailable.

2 If a student is complaining about not feeling well...

- Take the student's temperature
- Remove the student from activities if they have a fever over 100 degrees Fahrenheit
- In an emergency situation call 911

3 If the student is running a fever...

- Notify parents to pick up the student.
- Ask the parents about giving medicine to treat the fever.
- Administer fever-reducing medication as directed on label IF parent indicated permission on the field trip form or verbal permission is given (Staff trained on medication administration should be assigned this task).

4 While you wait...

- Be prepared to monitor the student in isolation until the parent is able to pick up the student.
- The student should be 6-10 feet from other students.
- The student should remain in isolation, even if their fever breaks with the use of medication.
- Maintain contact with parents to communicate status updates.

Please make sure that you notify your campus administrator and district program directors/coordinators if you encounter any health-related issues.
